

1. Clean and dry the surface you plan on placing the sticker. Ensure that all moisture is removed. Once applied, water and the elements should not harm the sticker for at least three years.

2. Peel off the top layer of paper covering with the sticker. The vinyl sticker should remain attached to the top layer of paper, leaving a blank backing strip to throw away.

3. Ensure your sticker is level, and in the location you want, and apply it like you would a normal sticker. Place it fully, vinyl side down, onto that clean smooth surface.

4. Seal the sticker, rubbing it hard with your thumb or the back of a spoon or the edge of a credit card to ensure it is properly stuck to the surface.

5. Grasp the corner of the paper top layer and carefully peel it away from the vinyl cut-out sticker. This should be relatively easy. If any of the vinyl comes up with the backing, flatten the entire sticker out against the surface again and press firmly along the vinyl, then attempt again.

6. Show off your finished sticker with pride! If the vinyl gets dirty, simply wipe it clean with a damp cloth.
